

Top 10 Board Appointments in 2020 (So Far)

After an extensive review of the hundreds of board appointments which have occurred among publicly traded corporations thus far in 2020, BoardProspects.com has determined the following are the most significant in terms of the value these individuals will bring to the boardroom. Our selection process includes an extensive examination of the credentials of the board appointees (including industry experience, skill-sets, age, race and gender) along with an analysis of the missing perspectives within the boardroom to which they have been appointed. Consideration is also given to the particular circumstances a company or its industry may be experiencing at the present time.

Michael Hsu, Chairman and CEO at Kimberly-Clark (NYSE: KMB) appointed to the Board of Directors at Texas Instruments
(NASDAQ: TXN)

Wright Lassiter, CEO Henry Ford Health System appointed to the Board of Directors at Quest Diagnostics
(NYSE: DGX)

Ret. US Army Lieut. General H.R. McMaster appointed to the Board of Directors at Zoom Video (NASDAQ: ZM)

Steve Mollenkopf, CEO Qualcomm (NASDAQ: QCOM) appointed to the Board of Directors at Boeing (NYSE: BA)

Julio Nemeth, Chief Product Supply Officer Procter & Gamble (NYSE: PG) -- appointed to the Board of Directors at Boston Beer Company (NYSE: SAM)

Gokul Rajaram, President of the Caviar Division at DoorDash -- appointed to the Board of Directors at Pinterest (NYSE: PINS)

Virginia Rometty, former Chair and CEO at IBM (NYSE: IBM) -- appointed to the Board of Directors at JPMorgan Chase (NYSE: JPM)

Kathryn Tesija, former Chief Merchandise & Supply Chain Officer at Target (NYSE: TGT) -- appointed to the Board of Directors at Clorox (NYSE: CLX)

Tracey Travis, CFO Estée Lauder (NYSE: EL) appointed to the Board of Directors at Facebook
(NASDAQ: FB)

Kathy Warden, Chair and CEO at Northrop Grumman (NYSE: NOC) -- appointed to the Board of Directors at Merck & Co (NYSE: MRK)